

Jim Crow in North Carolina
Monday, January 25 | 4:00pm – 7:00pm via Zoom

- 4:00 Welcome & Overview
Christie Norris, Carolina K-12
Chrystal Regan, NC Museum of History
- 4:15 Jim Crow in North Carolina: A Conversation with Author and Legal Expert Richard Paschal
In his ground-breaking book Jim Crow in North Carolina: The Legislative Program from 1865 to 1920, Richard Paschal provides an intricately researched and in-depth history of the shadow that Jim Crow casts over North Carolina and the nation. While the book catalogs all Jim Crow laws in North Carolina from 1865 to 1920, Paschal argues the laws and statutes do not fully explain the true extent of racial discrimination. In this conversation with the author, we will discuss Paschal's work and the dramatic history it highlights.
- 5:00 – 6:00 Live Stream of “The Movement”
While examining the injustice of Jim Crow, it is equally important to elevate the stories of those who resisted. The Movement is an historical acapella musical that chronicles the Children's March of 1963 in Birmingham, Alabama. Through narrative monologues, original a cappella music that is reflective of the protest songs of the movement; this theatrical piece shows the courage that young people exhibited in an effort to combat racial injustices and inequalities. Teachers are encouraged to grab their dinner and invite their entire family to watch along with us!
- 6:00 – 6:20 Q & A with Noel James and Cast of The Movement
- 6:20 – 6:50 Teaching Resources: A Look at On the Books, Jim Crow and Algorithms of Resistance
Sarah Carrier, NC Research & Instructional Librarian
On the Books, a project of UNC-Chapel Hill Libraries, is a website providing the first-ever catalogue of Jim Crow laws for an entire state. Using technology, the On the Books research team reviewed over 297,000 pieces of legislation passed in North Carolina between 1865 and 1967, revealing over 900 laws as potential Jim Crow laws. Learn about this innovative resource from a member of the project team, as well as explore the classroom materials available for teaching about Jim Crow and related themes in your classrooms.
- 6:50 – 7:00 Closing and Book Selections
Teachers will receive a free book for participating related to the program's content. Choose between Freedom's Children or Jim Crow in North Carolina!

This workshop is provided by Carolina K-12, the North Caroliniana Society, and the NC Museum of History, with funding from the North Caroliniana Society and the Braitmayer Foundation.